DEFENSE CONCEDES BOWERS GUILTY OF 1ST DEGREE MURDER

Pleads With Court To Overlook Prejudice Of The Public

'DEFENSE HANDICAPPED'

Father of Slain Woman Terms Bowers' Story "Pack Of Lies"

NORRISTOWN, Feb. 8.—Defense Attorney Elmer Menges today conceded that Wendell F. Bowers, 20-year-old slayer of Mrs. Wilma V. Carpenter, was guilty of "murder in the first degree," in a final plea to save him from the electric chair.

Menges pleaded with the court to overlook the prejudice of the public, which "thinks of only one punishment, and that is death." Scarcity of both money and time handicaps the defense in preparation of its case, he informed the three judges of the court.

Menges began his final summation as the family of the slain woman termed Bowers' story of how he shot and killed Mrs. Carpenter "a pack of premeditated lies," and demanded of district attorney Frederick B. Smilie, a new investigation.

"Bowers is not telling the whole truth. He is shielding someone else," charged William F. Dorsett, a retired mail carrier, and father of Mrs. Carpenter.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 8.—(INS)—The dramatic murder trial of Wendell F. Bowers was racing today to a conclusion with the 20-year-old slayer vowing his hopes of escaping the electric chair on his public confession of how he killed Wilma V. Carpenter, pretty, 38-year-old widow.

His own plea of guilty, the identification of him by Miss Mary Griffin from the witness stand, and his testimony as to how he slew Mrs. Carpenter and tried to attack Miss Griffin in the widow's Camp Hill home last December 12 appeared to have doomed Bowers to life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

When opposing counsel finishes their closing arguments today Bowers' fate will rest with the three judges of Montgomery County's Court of Oyer and Terminer. A verdict is looked for tomorrow or Friday, at the latest.

Defense Attorney Elmer Menges is expected to base his argument solely on the ground Bowers, a wayward, reformatory-bred youth since 10, was denied the opportunity to develop normally and drifted instead into a career of petty crime.

In waiving jury trial, the youthful defendant climaxed the plea that he slew Mrs. Carpenter and then sought to attack Miss Griffin criminally while intoxicated by denying he had drunk to excess the day the women surprised him robbing the Carpenter home.

As casually as though he was describing a chapter from a play, Bowers corroborated in detail the prosecution's case, gave a precise account of what happened in the Carpenter residence, and at one point stretched himself on the courtroom floor to show how his victim had fallen. "I shot her twice," asserted the defendant calmly. "I shot her in the body and in the head. I guess I was frightened."

But the real drama of the trial's opening day was supplied by Miss Griffin who, with tears streaming down her cheeks, screamed out her identification of Bowers as Mrs. Carpenter's killer. She testified she had begged the youth not to assault her.

Bowers was picked up as a suspicious vagrant in Louisville, Ky., one week after his flight from Camp Hill, and was returned to this city for trial.

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 8.—Francis Granello Taylor, 78, member of the Philadelphia, Delaware and Bucks Counties Bars, died last night after being ill five days.

The deceased resided in Philadelphia for 35 years and was a widely known lawyer, yachtman and horseman. He had one of the largest and perhaps most valuable collections of antique clocks in the United States. He was a graduate of Lehigh University and also of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Taylor organized the Island Heights Yacht Club. He had been married twice and is survived by his wife and several children. He was a member of the Doylestown Zoning Commission which recently drafted this borough's zoning ordinance.

Moscow, Feb. 8.—Another tragedy of the Arctic was written today as Soviet officials headed for the barren, frozen peaks of the Northern Kandalaksha region to investigate the loss of the Russian dirigible USSR V-6, which carried 13 men to death.

Six other persons aboard the craft, former pride of the Soviet lighter-than-air fleet, were seriously injured when the airship smashed head-on into a mountain. The accident occurred while the dirigible was making a preliminary flight preparatory to speeding into the Far North on a mercy errand.

Japanese Planes Resume Bombing

Shanghai, Feb. 8.—Trying the two widely separated points, Japanese airplanes resumed their bombing warfare against China today. The Japanese navy spokesman in Shanghai ordered Japanese warplanes returned to Hankow, temporary capital of the Chiang Kai-shek government, and also dropped bombs on Ichang.

At the same time, according to advices from Hongkong, another Japanese air fleet machine gunned a fleet of gasoline junk boats chartered by an American oil company—the Texaco concern—killing one junkman.

To Greet Davis

New York, Feb. 8.—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey was arranging for a "reception committee" of 94 today for Dixie Davis and George Weinberg—94 witnesses who will bolster Dewey's contention that Davis was "chairman of the board" and Weinberg "president" of New York's million dollar a year racket.

But Dewey will not stop with the policy charges, and was reported preparing far graver charges against the pair just as previously he was reported ready to question the disbarred lawyer, who was Dutch Schultz's attorney, about 18 murders.

Extradition papers were to go to Governor Lehman today for his study and signature and will then be rushed to Harrisburg, Pa., for the signature of Governor Earle.

Claim Insurgent Victory

Hendaye, France, Feb. 8.—A smashing insurgent victory—in which five complete government defenses were wiped out—was claimed today in rebel dispatches from Saragossa, which recounted vicious fighting in the Alframbra Valley, north of Teruel.

The report says the insurgents captured 230 square miles of territory, occupied 20 villages and 145 fortified positions and freed the Teruel-Saragossa highway from danger of government attacks. The rebels also captured all war material of three loyalist air corps.

WILLED DIAMOND RING BECAUSE OF KINDNESS

John W. Lee Receives Bequest In Will of Caroline W. Henley

MANY WILLS PROBATED

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 8.—For acts of kindness and as a token of gratitude, John W. Lee was bequeathed a three carat diamond ring by Karoline W. Henley, Warrington township, whose will was probated in the Register of Wills' office, here. Mr. Lee was also named executor.

The estate was valued at $1000. The testatrix also directed that following the death of her mother, Elizabeth Wisigki, three Catholic institutions should receive bequests totaling $1500. They are St. Ludwig's Catholic Church, The Little Sisters of the Poor and St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, Tacony, all of which are bequeathed $500 each. It is not believed that the value of the estate at the present time will make possible these charitable bequests.

The $1800 real estate holdings of Anna M. Greenig, Doylestown, will be inherited by three heirs, John Greenig, who was also named executor; Bernice E. G. Weiskirch and Thomas N. Weiskirch, Jr., a grandson. The daughter, Bernice E. G. Weiskirch, was bequeathed money belonging to the testatrix, which was in the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society at the time of her mother's death.

With the exception of a bequest of $200 to Leroy Nonamaker and $100 to the Keller's Church Cemetery Company, the $3500 personal estate of Remandus Roth, of Bedminster, will be inherited by six children. The heirs include Celeste Steever, Laura Kohl, Alvin Roth, Adella Nonamaker, Gertie George and Wallace Roth. Alvin Roth and Adella Nonamaker were named executors.

Mrs. Susan G. Jenkins was bequeathed the $10,000 and "upwards" of personal estate and $1500 real estate holdings of her husband, Alvin E. Jenkins, of Hilltown township. Upon her death, a brother, Horace E. Jenkins, and a sister, Adelle J. Donnel will inherit the estate. Following the death

TO HONOR BRISTOL WITH VISIT

GENERAL SMEDLEY D. BUTLER

Who on the night of February 19th will address members of American Legion Cadets, Robert W. Bracken Post, and their guests, at the annual banquet. Brigadier-General Butler will come to Bristol from a speaking engagement in Ohio, and return to that State after his address here.

SMEDLEY BUTLER IS TO BE AT CADETS' BANQUET

To Make Special Trip Here from Ohio for Big Event of The Corps' Year

ON FEBRUARY 19TH NAMES ARE PUBLISHED

General Smedley D. Butler is to be the speaker at the annual banquet of the Cadets of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion. The General will speak at the banquet and dance to be held Saturday evening, February 19th in St. Mark's Hall.

The Bracken Post Cadets consider themselves very fortunate in having secured General Butler as the speaker for this occasion.

General Butler will speak on the youth movement being carried on by the Americanization program of the Legion and of course will speak along lines of interest of the present day.

In trying to procure the General to be the speaker at this affair, the committee in charge feels very fortunate in being successful as the General is a very busy man, being on a lecture tour all over the country. As soon as General Butler received the invitation to come to Bristol he very promptly accepted, replying he would certainly be here as he has never forgotten the boys from Bristol. General Butler has judged the Bristol Cadets in many competitions at both state and national conventions.

General Butler will be in the State of Ohio the night before speaking here and will return to Ohio to speak there the following night. So he will have plenty of traveling to do.

General Butler entered the United States Marine Corps as a boy and went up the ladder the hard way—by actual fighting on the field of battle. He was a brigadier-general at the age of 37.

He went into retirement seven years ago with the rank of Major-General, and since then has thrilled 2,100 audiences in all 48 States of the Nation with his vivid reminiscences of his fighting days and his pleas for peace in the modern world.

General Butler is a vigorous and fearless speaker who lets the chips fall where they may.

The committee is limited to a certain number of tickets to be distributed due to the amount of space in the hall. If anyone desires reservations they should notify the committee as soon as possible.

There will also be other special numbers and attractions to take place that evening. These other features will be announced later.

The committee includes: Fred Stewart, chairman; Evan B. Vandegrift, Harold D. James, Harry Chapin, Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr. and Charles Brodie, commander.

The cause for the dismissals was not given and Dr. Flood stated that they came through from Harrisburg in the usual departmental routine. No successors have been named.

Fromhagen's position was the plum of Bucks County jobs and he had held it since 1935.

Arrest Five Youths For Alleged Thefts From Cars

Five youths, four of them residents of Philadelphia, are being held at police headquarters here by Bucks County and Penna. Motor Police officers, for alleged theft of accessories and gasoline from motor cars.

The thefts, according to the officers, have been going on for the past two months. Gasoline has been taken from cars, lights and bumpers have been stolen and other removable parts taken. Most of the thefts occurred while cars were parked along the Bristol Pike between Cornwells Heights and the Philadelphia City Line, a number of them in the vicinity of the Bensalem Township high school building.

The officers claim that the youths syphoned the gasoline from cars and put in into their own.

It is reported that the boys have admitted their part in the series of robberies. They will be given a hearing today before Justice of Peace James Laughlin in the Municipal Building.

Those being held are:

Frank Reed, 18, 3035 Jasper street, Philadelphia; John Rapp, 18, 4029 Cressman street, Philadelphia; Leonard Greiger, 18, 3034 Robinson street, Philadelphia; Harry DeLange, 15, 2927 McKinley street, Philadelphia; James Lignore, 16, Eddington.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1938, by The Baltimore Sun)

Mr. Roosevelt and Congress

IN A few days the President is expected to send to Congress a "business-reform" message which may make "good reading" but which not many believe will greatly change the situation. While its contents have been discussed for weeks, no one knows what it will contain, nor even the direction in which it will point. There has been so much contradictory advice that the clouds of confusion about the White House are very thick, indeed.

THE CHRONIC press-conference cheerfulness of Mr. Roosevelt does not dispel the fog, though it helps maintain, among the undiscerning, the thin illusion of competency.

For example, at one time there was to have been a ringing denunciation of trusts and monopolies, with strong recommendations—a la Jackson—for their dismemberment and control. Later, the Richberg plan, by which these great industrial units were to be become self-regulatory under a benign Federal supervision, was considered. And there are other ideas. No one can tell which school of advisors will prevail; nor, as has so often happened in this Administration, whether the final production will not be a compromise, in which the effort will be to reconcile the irreconcilable.

HOWEVER, THERE IS reason to regard two things as fairly certain. One is that Mr. Roosevelt will not put himself behind any of the really radical proposals, such as are now pressed upon him by certain of the more brilliant but less balanced of his counselors, because there would be no chance of getting them through Congress—and he knows it. Not only that—

CONFERENCE OF YOUTH INTERESTS DIRECTOR

Mrs. Asa Fabian, Bristol School Board Member, Attends Harrisburg Meeting

DIRECTORS SESSION, TOO

The only disappointment to Mrs. Asa Fabian, when she attended sessions of the Pennsylvania School Directors Association and of the Youth and Lay Conference in Harrisburg, last week, was that she was not permitted to tell how one of the main problems discussed at the latter conference, is solved in Bristol schools.

Mrs. Fabian, a member of the board of directors of Bristol public schools, was present at the three-day sessions of the annual conference of directors, and remained on Friday for the programs in connection with the Youth and Lay Conference on the Adequacy of the Program of Secondary Education to Meet the Needs of Youth.

"At the Youth Conference, there were on the platform approximately 150 boys and girls, representing 20 schools in the Harrisburg area. These young people, some of whom have just left school, and some of whom are still students, were asked to tell what in their opinion is not being stressed or taught in the schools that should be presented for students' benefit. The consensus of opinion of many was that they are not given opportunity or are not added to equip themselves to meet the public. The complaint of some who are now working is that they find it difficult to approach people, and to say even a few words in connection with their work. This seems to be proving a great handicap."

Continuing, Mrs. Fabian said it was a great disappointment to her that no one in the audience was permitted to discuss the subject, or to tell of how the problem is handled in their particular district.

"I am so proud of how Bristol high school is handling this matter, that I would have liked to have passed the information on for benefit of others," added the local director.

It was then explained by Mrs. Fabian that in Bristol high school the civics and current events class has a general discussion on either civics or current events for its full period each day. "A member of the class is chosen as chairman, and this chairman directs the meeting, giving audience to one student after another as they stand up in class and discuss current subjects from all angles, giving varieties of views. The instructor remains at the rear of the room, and does not halt any student who is speaking. If a false statement is made the instructor will, after the student has finished, ask if any students noted a false statement. The instructor does not correct mistakes in English at the time such are made, but a few days later will tell of recent grammatical errors, but does not name the student. Thus the students are not embarrassed, but still learn of their errors, and can correct them in future discourses. The pupil is also benefited by not having the feeling that he or she will be stopped in the middle of a 'public address.'"

These particular classes help the student to become community conscious, and also help them to keep in touch with the events in the world today.

This particular current events class has been inaugurated within the past year, and the participants are ninth grade students.

The feeling expressed by the young people at the conference, according to Mrs. Fabian is that school work is "too cut and dried."

Of particular interest, at the directors' sessions, in addition to discussion relative to the teachers' tenure act, were comments on the law which provides that boys and girls must attend school until the age of 18 years. In the Fall of 1938 there will be no working certificates given for those under 17 years of age, and in the following term the students must remain in school until 18 years of age.

"The directors discussed what might be done to maintain the interest of this group. The new ruling will keep 90,000 additional students in the high schools of Pennsylvania during the next two years, it was brought out. The state is not providing for the additional teachers who will be required; nor for equipment, buildings, etc.," added Mrs. Fabian.

PATRIOTIC GROUPS PRESENT FLAGS TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS

New Banners To Wave Over Each Public School In Bristol Borough

GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

Representatives of Organizations Make Presentations To Pupils

Five new American flags will wave over the five public school buildings in Bristol. The flags were presented to representatives of the schools at the assembly program of grades in the high school building, this morning at nine o'clock, the donors being the following organizations: Washington Camp, No. 789, Patriotic Order Sons of Americans; Camp 21, Fraternal Patriotic Americans; and Bristol Council No. 58, Daughters of America.

Five members of these orders presented the red, white and blue banners on behalf of the organizations, and a student from each of the five school buildings accepted the gifts for their respective schools.

To the Wood street school, Mrs. Warren Thompson made the presentation, with Lucy Margari accepting the same; Mrs. Edward Renk made the presentation address for Washington street school's flag, the acceptance being by Elias Fiorelli; Mrs. Gilbert Lovett gave the flag on behalf of the organizations for Bath street school, and it was accepted by Sterling Davidson; Jefferson avenue building's gift was handed by Mrs. Lamont White to James Bolton; and for use at the high school building, Mrs. Jennie Dieterich presented the flag to Olive Johnson.

Each of the five women, in making the presentations, spoke with pride of the privilege of bestowing such a gift to the schools, and asked that all boys and girls do their utmost to keep the American flag waving high, keep it from stain, and honor it always. The students expressed appreciation for the gifts, extending thanks from the pupils and teachers of their respective schools. The last pupil to acknowledge the gift, Olive Johnson, closed her acceptance remarks with a poem which ended with the following couplet: "The flag today of the U. S. A., is the flag for you and me."

The flags, each five by eight feet, will wave over the five buildings of Bristol borough public school system.

With Miss Laura Ellis, a member of the faculty in Harriman building, in charge, the following program was presented in connection with this morning's exercises: "Come Thou Almighty King," the 23rd Psalm, salute to the flag, and "America," entire assemblage; flag drill, pupils of Miss Ida Phillips; songs "The Flag and the Eagle" and Keller's "American Hymn"; group of students from sixth grade; play, "The Making of Our Flag," grades three, four and five; song, "Star Spangled Banner"; singing of "America, the Beautiful."

A number of representatives of the patriotic organizations, and several parents of the pupils, were gathered for the program.

HUNTING "PIRATES" AGAIN

After a few months during which little was heard of "pirate" submarines in the Mediterranean, one of those strangely unidentified undersea boats has come to the surface long enough to sink a British merchantman with loss of eleven lives.

The Spanish embassy in London has issued a statement directly charging that the sinking was the work of an Italian submarine. The embassy asserted that General Franco's insurgents had no submarines of their own, because they had been unable to capture any of the regular Spanish submarines.

Signor Mussolini, of course would deny this and could go right on denying it for days and days—unless the "pirate" submarine were found and identified. But that does not seem very likely—we mean the "identified" part. It is quite possible of course, that the four British destroyers, carrying heavy depth bombs, which are hunting the "pirate" submarine may find it or one of its fellow-pirates. In this event, however, the simplest thing to do would be promptly to send the submarine to the bottom of the Mediterranean without formal introductions.

Then Signor Mussolini would not have to bother either with denials or with embarrassing admissions. He simply could quietly count his remaining submarines and revise confidential naval statistics accordingly. One suspects that this may have happened, once or twice, during the big hunt for "pirate" undersea craft last fall.

STILL A MYSTERY

A Senate committee sought the other day to learn from Attorney General Cummings just how far Mr. Jackson represented the department of justice in his late attacks upon business. The members apparently wanted to clear up a mystery. Evidently they had an impression that when a high official of the government spoke as freely as Mr. Jackson has spoken he necessarily represented not his personal views but the policies of the government as these have expression through the department of his connection. So they asked Mr. Cummings about it.

No, said the attorney general. Mr. Jackson's speeches represented the "views of a highly important member of the bar."

That, however, did not quite satisfy Senator Austin, Republican of Vermont, who pushed his first enquiry by asking: "But do not represent the Department of Justice?"

"Not necessarily," replied Mr. Cummings.

"They are not binding on the department of justice?" interposed Senator King, Democrat of Utah. And again the astute attorney general responded with a "not necessarily."

And that, we would say, leaves the mystery still a mystery, for that "not necessarily" implies that maybe Mr. Jackson has interpreted government policies in his bitterly antagonistic speeches on business and maybe he has not.

Santa Anita is America's swankiest track.

This season Bing Crosby, Joe E. Brown, and Barbara Stanwyck own the best red-roses among the actors. Al Jolson is the biggest better. The Great Game of Politics but a radical recommendation at this time would cause a real reaction in Congress and accelerate the coalition movement, which has more to it than is generally believed. On the other hand, the President cannot bring himself to take strongly the conservative course—repeal of the surplus tax, return of relief administration to the States; economy; less governmental regulation, competition and interference—because those things seem a surrender to his critics and an acknowledgement of mistakes.

IF THIS is the case—and there is sound ground for believing it—then it means futility for the rest of this session, just as the anti-synching bill has meant futility for the first six weeks. There are, as Senator Bailey, of North Carolina, pointed out the other day, worse things. If this Congress should pass the kind of tax bill now urged by both big and little business, and then make the necessary appropriations for the departments and relief, an adjustment without the enactment of either the monstrous crop-control bill, the wage-and-hour control bill or any other pending legislative proposition would be rather a boon to the country.

PERHAPS that is too much to hope for, as the crop-control bill, the extraordinary contents of which are not generally grasped by the people and but little understood by their representatives in Congress, has already passed both houses and is now in the Conference Committee. Nevertheless, this measure will be enacted more under the whip of the exceedingly powerful farm lobby than because the Administration is for it. Most observers agree that the Roosevelt influence no longer dominates Congress and that the depression has deepened the conservative tendency both in Senate and House.

It's Nature's Danger Signal. Just say "Buckets" to any druggist. Your 25¢ bucket in 4 days if not pleased. Buckets are made from juniper oil, turpentine and 6 other drugs. They flush the kidneys. Trenton Butcher Pleads Guilty To Bigamy Charge

Bucks county willfully making false oaths and giving a false name," Judge Boyer said. "The public has an interest in the honesty of all marriages, the public has an interest to see whether a man has the right to be married, and the marriage laws must be protected."

Both wives were in Court during the hearing. The second time he was married he used the name Stephen Miller. He served one year in Mercer County Jail.

Pleading guilty before President Judge Hiram H. Keller to a charge of driving while drunk on January 22nd, after he had taken 14 beers, Raymond August Schneider, 32, Bristol, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs, a prison sentence was suspended and Schneider placed on probation for one year. His driver's license was also revoked.

Schneider was arrested by Private Carfagno, of the Oxford Valley sub-station of Motor Police, after a tire on his car blew out and the car struck a pole.

Fred Hodgson, 21, Philadelphia, arrested by the same officer on the same charge, was given the same sentence. He was arrested on December 11th after having an accident at Fallsington tunnel.

Judge Calvin S. Boyer yesterday fined Charles A. Stayer, Springfield Township, $100 and costs after he pleaded guilty to a charge of manufacturing liquor in a 10-gallon still at his home, where Liquor Control Board Agents raided.

Frank Zuchero, Bristol, charged with indecent exposure and lewdness, pleaded guilty before Judge Boyer and was sentenced to one month to one year in the Bucks County Prison.

Pleading guilty to the theft of an electric motor from a vacant house in Hulmeville, Rocco Riccardo, 37, Daniel Hebrank, 17, and Victor J. Peters, 48, Philadelphia, were given suspended sentences and placed on probation for one year by Judge Boyer.

Thomas Rafferty, 68, Pittsburgh, charged with surety, on the information of Miss Emily Margaret Endris, operator of a roadside inn, was before Judge Keller.

Miss Endris testified that Rafferty, who worked for her for a time, threatened to get fire to the place and to kill her. She said that she took him in as a stranger and offered him work before Christmas, but that he has been acting strangely lately.

Miss Endris told the Court that she believed Rafferty to be a mental case. In the Court of Quarter Sessions, a motion that the appeal of Josephine Laugel, of Warrington township, on refusal of a restaurant liquor license, by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, be continued to March 1st, was granted.

Weekly Letter to Home-Makers

A Letter Written by Miss Edna M. Ferguson to Home-Makers will appear in each Tuesday's issue of The Bristol Courier. Through this medium Miss Ferguson will give many helpful hints to home-makers.

February long has been a favored month for entertaining. For one thing, the January lull after the holiday rush has revived prospective guests and hostesses, who are ready for invitations again.

However, the main excuse for giving a party is the St. Valentine's-Lincoln-Washington-birthday combine, which solves color schemes, games and even some of the dishes to be served. This is a particularly good time to entertain for children, who never are too modern to enjoy an old-fashioned heart hunt, or to compose Valentine rhymes.

An ideal centerpiece for a children's party, rather than flowers, is a bouquet of bright lollypops in different colors. One clever hostess even used two or three large flower holders on her party table, fitting the larger lollypops into the center of the holder and forming a border of smaller stick candles in different shades. The distinct effect was flowerlike and the junior guests found the decoration far more practical than costly flowers.

Although Valentine red never will be surpassed in popularity, many hostesses used a deep wine shade with silver or gold in their Cupid anniversary parties last year. The same rich shade is prevalent this year, and is available in candles, in large and small hearts, and in matching paper napkins, table covers and even in hand-painted paper plates of many sizes.

The ingenious hostess can fashion a centerpiece that will serve a dual purpose. Cover an oblong box with heavy gold foil and top the box with a mound of candy hearts. Or top the box with a pair of Cupid dolls.

Hidden in the box are the tiny favors. Amusing angels, that made their appearance at Christmas as demure candle holders, are back again, this time with their white robes sprinkled with red hearts.

Also in the shops is a small red heart of wood, resting on a flat base, which holds a little red candle. This costs all of ten cents and makes a place card and favor combined, as well as providing a candle on which to make a love wish. Perhaps you prefer to buy a box of tiny red candles and work out your own ideas.

Many hostesses buy an assortment of tiny flowers and make up individual corsages as favors, using a round, lace-edged paper dolly as the foundation. One favor in the stores shows Cupid drawing a tiny red and white wheelbarrow, to be filled with candies or cigarettes. Gold hearts may be used in quantity on a deep red table, strewn in heaps, or arranging them in a heart-shaped cluster around the centerpiece.

Tiny candy hearts are useful for decorating the edge of cakes, if you have no pastry tube. If you do not want to invest in a heart-shaped pan, take a large heart pattern, and cut your sponge or white cake in heart formation after it is baked, thriftingly using the cut bits later in ice-box pudding, or with custard. Camouflage the cut edges with plenty of icing and trim with miniature candles. Pure vegetable coloring may be used in boiled icing for added effect.

A small heart-shaped cutter is in expensive and may be used for sandwiches, cookies and for attractive canapés, which are welcome on week-days and holidays. Since St. Valentine's is a traditional feast day, as well as a day for lovers, it is advisable to prepare generous portions.

These heart-shaped canapés, made with a gelatine foundation, are colorful and are particularly good for a children's party, because they are easily digested.

This recipe yields six generous servings:

Valentine Canapés

One envelope plain unflavored gelatine; one-fourth cup cold water; two cups canned or fresh tomatoes; one tablespoon horseradish; one tablespoon onion juice; one teaspoon salt; one-half cup chopped cucumber (may be omitted); one-half cup chopped celery.

Put tomatoes through strainer, add horseradish, salt and onion juice, extracted by grating onion. Pour cold water in bowl and sprinkle gelatine on top of water. Place bowl over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add to tomatoes and mix thoroughly. Cool and when mixture begins to thicken, add cucumber and celery, chopped very fine. Pour into flat pan that has been rinsed in cold water and chill.

When firm, unmold and cut out hearts with cutter. Serve on crackers, or on heart-shaped sections of crisp toast.

Molded gelatine salads, utilizing pimiento, beets or tomato for color, also are popular this month, since they may be prepared in advance and stored in the icebox. Children also like a salad of "orchid" eggs and beets, made by placing hard-boiled eggs in a bowl of diluted vinegar, with the boiled and seasoned beets.

The favored Washington's Birthday salad, of course, is the sliced pineapple, which supports a sturdy section of banana, on top of which is speared a bright red cherry, all of which gives a candle effect.

Drained, finely-chopped maraschino cherries, are attractive in icing used on a cake, which may be trimmed with tiny red cinnamon candles, or motto hearts.

Edna M. Ferguson

HELPFUL HINTS

Fresh vegetables in Winter once were a luxury in the valley of the Rio Grande. Now this section sends an increasing line of tender Winter vegetables to distant cities—new potatoes, broccoli, fresh peas, bunch beets, parsley, radishes and spinach. Prices are reasonable, too.

Federal food and drug officials note a marked improvement in the quality of canned fruits and vegetables in recent years. Government standards have been set for these products and there is a stern requirement that all foods below the standard must be so labeled. Cans also must be well filled, or else labeled "slack filled."

Cherries, apricots, peaches and pears; also tomatoes and peas which fall below minimum standards of quality must be marked, "Below U. S. Standard, Good Food—Not High Grade."

An index of standard requirements is seen in the testimony of government investigators that they find relatively few foods in this class.

IN THE warehouses Mr. Pinnix has managed in Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, 46,000,000 pounds of tobacco have been sold. Farmers travel many miles to bring their crops to Mr. Pinnix's warehouse for sale. Reason is that they respect his tobacco experience and business integrity. So surely Mr. Pinnix's views are worth your respect, too.

"At every market I've ever attended," says Mr. Pinnix, "Lucky Strike has bought the ripest, mellowest tobacco offered. That's why I've smoked Luckies ever since I first became a warehouseman 20 years ago."

Mr. Pinnix's statement is borne out by sworn records which show that, among independent tobacco experts—auctioneers, buyers, and warehousemen—Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

APPENZELLER LEADS FALLS FIVE TO VICTORY

By Louis Tomlinson
TRENTON, Feb. 8.—With Bud Appenzeller leading the way by hanging up eight double deckers for 16 points, Fallington High won their fifth consecutive game and third straight in league competition when they walloped the Blue and Gold Buccaneers from Buckingham, 54-17, on the Junior High No. 1 court here last night.

In winning the game by the one-sided score, Fallington broke two more scoring records for the season in league play. Besides breaking the high-scoring record of points for a team in one contest when they rolled up their 54 points, the Orange and Black five also broke the record for points for one period when they racked up a total of 24 in the third quarter of the fray. This record was formerly held by Morrisville who rang up 21 points in the first period against Bensalem at Morrisville. The Bulldogs and Fallington jointly held the high team total for one game in league competition when both counted a total of 53 against Buckingham in previous tilts.

RECREATION HOCKEY CLUB VICTORS IN TWO CONTESTS

Over the past week-end, the Bristol Recreation Hockey Club came out victorious over two of the major hockey clubs around these parts. Saturday night Bristol defeated the Jersey City Greyhounds of Jersey City by an 8 to 5 score, and Sunday night defeated the Trenton Blackhaws of the Garden Rink of Trenton by a 9 to 3 score.

The Jersey City game proved from the start to be a thrilling, and one of the fastest and roughest games ever played in the Bristol Rink. The game was marked with many arguments and flistic disputes.

Both teams scored in every period and in many cases they were on even terms on the scoring. "Sonny" George Ritter, snappy wing man of the "Rees," started the scoring and then was followed by two more points off the sticks of "Slippery" Sam Leeper, wing man, and Mush Higgins, center, while Higgins of the Greyhounds and Ibernier scored the two points of the first period for the Jerseyites.

In the second period, Leeper and Higgins again scored one apiece and "Fantail" Remer, defense of Bristol, made a beautiful long shot in the case, while for the Greyhounds, Higgins, left wing, again did the scoring with two more points. Thus at the end of the second period the score stood 6-4 in favor of Bristol. The last period 6-4 was for Bristol. The last period 6-4 was for Bristol. The last period 6-4 was for Bristol.

The game ended 8-5 in favor of Bristol. The only casualty of the game was when "Big Boy" Remer injured his ankle. The line-up was as follows:

Bristol "Rees" Jersey City

N. Campbell	A. Amann
goalie	goalie
G. Remer	Higgins
B. Ritter	right defense
M. Higgins	center
G. Ritter	left wing
S. Leeper	right wing

Subs: Bristol—Bowers, Mulholland, Wilson, Bickard; Jersey City—Caputo, Maretsky.

Penalties: Maretsky, Jersey City, two minutes.

Score by periods:

Bristol 3 3 2-8

Jersey City 2 2 1-5

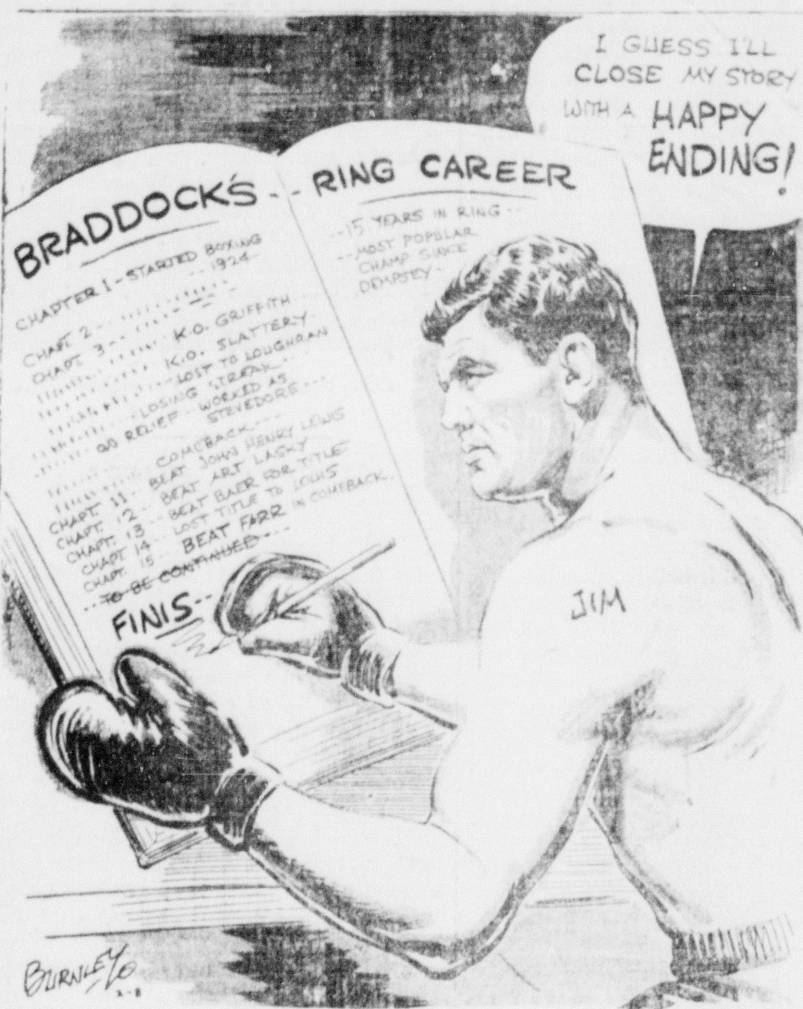

Time of periods: 15 minutes.

Referee: F. Higgins, Trenton Normal. Timer and scorer: W. Fagan, Rider College.

The game against the Trenton Blackhaws proved to be more of a passing game with the Bristol boys completely baffling the Trenton team with their snappy playing. This game ended with the "Rees" overwhelming the Blackhaws with a 9-3 score. In the very first period Bristol went far into the lead to stay till the rest of the game. George Ritter, snappy wing, again started the scoring and inspired his team-mates to score four more points, two off the sticks of Higgins and one apiece for Sam Leeper and Bill Ritter. Thus at the end of the first period the score stood 5-0 in favor of Bristol. The second period proved more fortunate for Trenton when they slipped three points past the Bristol goalie, "Chet" Lawrence with two and Allen one. Mush Higgins again scored for Bristol, making the score 6-3 at the end of the second period. Going into the last period, Bristol again started a rally, netting

Smart Time To Quit

By HURNLEY

It had begun to look as if Old Man Braddock was one of those inevitable things you just have to put up with, like death and taxes. James J. seemed to have become a permanent fixture in the heavyweight situation, and it looked as if he would probably still be tossing leather when he was in a wheel chair and sporting a flowing white beard.

Although everyone thought that Jim Braddock had been eased out of the picture for good when Joe Louis butchered him at Chicago, James returned for more.

When Mike Jacobs brought the ex-stevard back for "one more money shot" with Tommy Farr, it was supposed to be James J.'s final fadeout. James obstinately refused to fade, however, and proceeded to belt the younger Farr about in scandalous fashion in the last two rounds of their brawl.

It would seem that the betting boys would have been leery of Braddock by this time—James had fooled 'em so often before. Still, the gamblers had Farr a 3-to-1 shot before the fight, and you could write your own ticket on Braddock at the end of the eighth round, when the Welshman seemed to have the bout in the bag.

The old boy fooled 'em again, however, and came through with a glorious victory. Now, after fifteen-years of back-bashing, James J. has decided that it's a good time to retire. Like Tunney, he is quitting while he is a top-notch and, also like Gene, he is well-fixed financially.

three more points. The scoring was done by G. Ritter, Sam Leeper and Elmer Bowers, rookie, who showed very fine playing.

All the Bristol team played an especially fine brand of hockey with G. Ritter, B. Ritter and M. Higgins leading the scoring. Little fouls were called in this game. "Tiny" Remer and Wayne Mulholland played fine defensive hockey. "Chet" Lawrence and Goldy of Trenton played exceptional hockey but could not budge the Bristol boys. This was the second time Bristol has defeated Trenton in as many starts.

Manager McCoy was very pleased with the outcome of this week's games and will endeavor to procure another pair of top-notch teams for next week. The line-up was as follows:

Bristol	Trenton
W. Mulholland	Geldy
goalie	goalie

G. Remer left defense

B. Ritter right defense

M. Higgins center

G. Ritter right wing

S. Leeper left wing

Score by periods:

Bristol 5 1 3-9

Trenton 0 2 0-2

Time of periods: 15 minutes.

Referee: F. Higgins, Trenton Normal. Timer and Scorer: W. Fagan, Rider College.

Subs: O'Boyle, Campbell, Bowers, Rickard, Wilson.

BRISTOL'S NEWEST THEATRE TO OPEN TOMORROW WITH BOROUGH ATTORNEY SPEAKING AT THE FORMAL OPENING EXERCISES; LEGION CADETS TO TAKE PART

PATRONS OF NEW "BRISTOL" THEATRE WILL FIND IT MOST MODERN IN DESIGN, COLOR TONE AND DECORATIVE FEATURES

Lobby, Foyer, and Main Theatre Finished in Cocoa Tone, With Attractive Trim—All Wood Used is Natural Birch—Chairs Are in Red and Blue—Ample Rest Rooms Are Most Attractively Furnished

Patrons of the new "Bristol" Theatre will find it modern in design, and very modern in its color themes and decorative features.

Modern-day America gave to the designers the color and decorative effects for Bristol's newest motion picture playhouse, and the tones of tapestries, leathers, paints and metals are most pleasing to the eye.

Those attending the initial performance tomorrow evening at the "Bristol," will upon entering the lobby on Radcliffe street, be greeted by most attractive decoration, for here with walls and ceiling finished in cocoa-toned paint, there is featured trim of blue and chrome. The cashier's booth, hexagonal in shape, is finished in natural birch, as is likewise all wood-work throughout this modern theatre. The carpet, here, as in the other portions of the theatre, is in attractive design, the colors being red, blue and tan.

On the lobby wall, just opposite the booth are two circular poster frames, five feet in diameter. Here there are placed for perusal of theatre-goers, names of coming attractions and other information.

Magnificent chairs, upholstered in wine-toned velvet; together with large vases, add to the appearance of the lobby.

Passing into the foyer, which runs along the Radcliffe street side, the wall and ceiling tones are continued in the cocoa shade, with trim in brown and tan. A circular mirror, nine feet in diameter, is the central attraction on the wall, and in the center of this is a drinking fountain of wine-toned porcelain. A third circular poster frame is also located in this section of the theatre. An exit is placed at the end of the foyer, on the Market street side of the building.

Turning to the right the patron finds himself in the rear aisle of the theatre, this wide aisle measuring 46 feet in length.

The eye-floy design of the interior, directs the eyes on the large screen at the stage, this being the largest screen in Bucks County.

Here, in the main theatre, the same color tones are to be found as in the lobby and foyer, but more elaborate.

The chairs have red leather seats, red mohair backs, with aisle standards for same of red and blue steel. Chromium strips follow the sides and top of the chair backs, giving not only durability, but attractiveness of design. The rear of the chairs are finished in birch.

The walls of the theatre proper are uniquely finished. Wide stripes of cocoa, tan, brown and salmon, run horizontally down both sides of the theatre, with "relief" strips of silver and blue. The decorative border, three feet in height, is at the same height as the balcony in the rear of the theatre. This decorative border has vertical stripes of brown and salmon, with occasional stencilled insets featuring musical instruments such as violins, cornets etc., as well as notes of music.

The indirect lighting fixtures are of natural toned glass, and chrome.

Theatre Management Adopts Community Policy

It is the policy of those interested in the "Bristol" Theatre to link their enterprises into the activities of the community. It is their plan to meet and aid wherever possible in the development of the community, and the patrons of the house have every assurance that whatever is necessary will be given for the entertainment dollar.

The theatre at Bridgeport, operated by the same interests, plays a big part in that community, and the "Bristol" Theatre management will follow the same policy. "We are out to advance this section of Bucks County, and we will spare no effort to have our theatre take its proper place in the community."

It is seldom that a theatre is named after the community in which it is located, but the management of the "Bristol" Theatre desires to have its enterprise so closely connected with the community that the name of "Bristol" was selected. An artistic heading for the advertising of this theatre has been drawn by artists, in such a way that each day the advertisement appears it will stand out as a striking advertisement for the town of Bristol, as well as for the theatre.

RCA HIGH FIDELITY SYSTEM IS INSTALLED AT BRISTOL THEATRE

Photophone Equipment Brings Unusual Range of Sound Volume

OF HIGHEST STANDARD

Compares With Standard Set By Radio City Music Hall In New York

Technicians from the sound laboratories of the RCA manufacturing company installed and tested the new high fidelity system at the "Bristol" Theatre.

A new giant loud speaker, capable of reproducing the entire range of audible frequencies with the utmost fidelity, has been installed behind the porous screen from which the sound emanates, and with the new sound head and high quality amplification system in the projection booth, the stage of the "Bristol" is set for presenting the greatest advance in theatre sound since the advent of talking pictures.

Technical progress in the sound motion picture art has been so rapid and far-reaching since the time when speech and music were added to the moving image on the screen, that sound-producing systems of the earlier days are now hopelessly inadequate in recreating the finely recorded pictures of the present day.

Whereas previous systems have been able to reproduce tones as low as 100 cycles, and as high as 6,000 cycles at the very best, the new RCA photophone equipment can faithfully reproduce tones as low as 60 cycles and as high as 10,000 cycles.

The range of volume, too, has been improved so that the merest whisper of the wind in the grass or the great crescendo of a symphony orchestra may be reproduced with equal fidelity.

The development of the new high fidelity system comes as the culmination of years of persistent research and experiment by a group of engineers with a background of more than 30 years of acoustical experience. It was this same group of engineers that was responsible for most of the major advances in radio broadcasting and in marine and transoceanic communication.

With the installation of this new RCA photophone high frequency apparatus in the "Bristol" Theatre, motion picture fans of lower Bucks County will enjoy sound of the same high standard as that in the two finest theatres in the world, the "Center" Theatre and Radio City Music Hall of Rockefeller Centre, New York, for the sound systems are identical in operation and quality of production.

Both Cary Grant and Humphrey Bogart are eager to go the lead role in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," Grant, because, like Robert Montgomery, he is eager to try his hand at heavy drama and Bogart because he is right for the role.

BUSINESS MEN'S ASS'N EXTENDS ITS GREETINGS

Management of "Bristol" Theatre:

"Welcome" is the greeting of the Mill Street Business Men's Association to you and your new enterprise. The "Bristol" Theatre is going to brighten up a dark spot in Bristol's shopping district, and it will be another reason for residents of our suburban area to visit Bristol and thus become better acquainted with our theatres, our stores, our people and our community.

Your enterprise and progressive spirit are to be commended. May your success be unlimited.

MILL STREET BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION,
EDGAR J. SPENCER,
President.

Magnificent New "Movie" Theatre

This handsome modern theater, the "Bristol" will open here tomorrow and will afford "movie" patrons of Lower Bucks County the very latest in motion picture programs. The house is the last word in design and equipment and is ideal in its arrangements to the minutest detail.

MOST MODERN TYPE OF SCREEN SUCH AS USED AT RADIO CITY

Hurley Lumiphonic Even-Lite Equipment Installed Which Is Very Latest

IN PICTURE BRILLIANCY

Patrons Will Thrill To A Picture That Is Realism Itself

The most modern type of screen such as the one in Radio City Music Hall, New York City, has been installed in the "Bristol" Theatre. Radio City Music Hall has the largest screen in the world. It is a Hurley Lumiphonic Even-Lite screen. The "Bristol" Theatre contains the largest screen in Bucks County. It is also a Hurley Lumiphonic Even-Lite.

The Even-Lite is a sensational improved development in sound screens. More light reflection is distributed evenly over the entire surface of the screen through the new gradational perforations. The perforations are confined to the center portions of the screen, where the loud speaker systems are located, and the light is brightest. From the center the perforations gradually diminish toward the edges of the screen, both as to spacing and area until they are entirely eliminated and the screen surface becomes solid. This method of perforating permits a more even distribution of light, and restores picture brilliancy in the side portions, where heretofore the loss has been the greatest due to the old-style methods of over-all perforating that now are obsolete. You can now thrill to a picture that is realism itself.

Sellersville Child May Accept Movie Contract

If Josephine Richter, Sellersville's six-year-old star, has her way, Shirley Temple will have some friendly competition.

Josephine, after three years of local amusement work, has been offered a movie contract.

Small, with dark eyes and long, brown curls, she is more mature than you can imagine. "Of course I speak German and French," she said recently. "And I can write pretty well, too. Wouldn't any girl want to act like Shirley Temple? Mom and dad think I can be a success. If I work hard enough."

She dances a bit, sings a few songs and reads or recites.

Josephine's biggest boosters are her Sellersville friends. They explain that she's never been to school, but can do much of the work of a sixth-grader. Above all, they praise her good humor, her spirit and industry. What makes her most proud is for some one to commend her piano playing. Though she is far from expert, and definitely not a prodigy, she can accompany many of her songs quite well.

This fine group of Bristol boys, in full uniform, will draw to attention in front of Bristol's newest playhouse shortly before the appointed time for the opening.

Marching into the ultra-modern theatre at a given signal, the Cadets, under direction of Charles Brodie, will play a number of selections inside of the playhouse.

The Cadets are always a great attraction wherever and whenever they appear, and tomorrow will be no exception.

The new colorful and attractive theatre will form a fitting background for the dapper uniforms of Bristol's "finest."

MANAGEMENT PLANS TO MAKE THEATRE AN OUTSTANDING ONE

Project Incorporated As "The Bristol Theatre Corporation" By Owners

NED EGNAL, MANAGER

Enterprise To Be A Real Community Project In Every Sense of the Word

Nathan L. Egnal, a son of the builder of the new Bristol Theatre here, will take over its complete management upon its opening. Egnal, better known to his friends and associates as "Ned," is a native Philadelphian, having been born in that city February 17, 1910. He still makes his home there.

The youngest of five children, Ned Egnal received his elementary education in the public schools of Philadelphia. He entered West Philadelphia High School and graduated from that institution with an enviable record in the class of 1927.

Serving as treasurer of his class for two years Egnal was able at the end of his terms to turn over a balance of more than $100, after all class expenses had been paid. He was then named to head a gift committee and presented the money to the school authorities representing a gift from the class of 1927.

He was also a member of the tennis team, this sport still constituting one of his chief forms of relaxation. Besides that Egnal managed the championship cross country team of the public High School league in 1926, served as president of the Shakespearean Dramatic Club and took part in many of its productions.

Following his graduation from High School in 1927 Egnal became active in the affairs of the alumni of his High School. These activities led to a keener study of some of the problems facing school children at that time and resulted in Egnal's founding of the Student Welfare League. This league was composed of sororities and fraternities in the city organized under Egnal's guidance, for the purpose of relief for children whose parents were unable to properly outfit their children for school.

In 1932 the League engineered a special affair at the Penn Athletic Club. It proved socially and financially a big success and met with the approval of members of the Philadelphia Board of Education, and other civic leaders. The entire proceeds of the entertainment were presented to the respective principals of the West Philadelphia and Overbrook High Schools. Dr. Ross Smith, now deceased, received the money for the Overbrook school, and Walter Roberts, still serving as principal of the West Philadelphia High School, received that school's portion of the proceeds.

It was while Egnal was still active in the work of the League that he met the girl who later became his wife, Sylvia Schonfeld, a Philadelphian. Miss Schonfeld became the wife of Egnal on May 2nd, 1934. Miss Schonfeld was an honor student at Overbrook High School and later worked as a librarian at the University of Pennsylvania. She graduated from Overbrook in 1930 where she was editor of the school yearbook.

Following his graduation from High School, Ned Egnal entered the public garage business in Philadelphia. From 1928 until 1936 he was

OFFICIAL PROGRAM

Fine Screen Program To Follow the Official Opening

A new epoch will be marked in the history of lower Bucks County tomorrow evening when the doors of a magnificent new theatre, the "Bristol," will be opened to the public for the first time. This ultra-modern theatre, located at Radcliffe and Market streets, Bristol, gives to lower Bucks County the acme of perfection in the way of a motion picture theatre, and it is rightfully billed by the management as "Bucks County's finest."

The structure is imposing; it's modern; it's comfortable; it's different. Its equipment is the latest word in the "movie" playhouse world. Nothing has been spared to make it modern and complete.

Erected on the site of a smaller house, the "Riverside" Theatre, the new house of entertainment brightens up the location in which it is situated; will tend to develop a new business area, and according to its managers will bring to Bristol the outstanding "movie" programs of the day.

Having a seating capacity of nearly 1,000, the "Bristol" tomorrow evening at 7.30 will be formally dedicated with a fitting program.

The official program is as follows: After the audience has been seated all of the lights in the theatre will be extinguished. Then a picture of the American flag will be thrown on the screen to be followed by the singing of the National Anthem with the audience standing.

The American Legion Cadets will march into the theatre and onto the stage where they will render a number of selections.

There will be an address and formal dedication of the theatre by Howard I. James, Esq., borough solicitor.

The regular program of the theatre will be taken up from this point and will include:

Paramount News.
Showing of the feature films "Ain't Nature Old Fashioned" and "When East Meets West."

Hollywood Music Man in a Pictorial Review.

Peeping Penguins in Technicolor.

Queens of Harmony—Phil Spitalney and His Gorgeous Girl Band.

The cheering, rousing romance of the Naval Academy, "Hold 'Em Navy."

Comfortable Seats Are Assured The Patrons

Comfortable seats are a necessity in a theatre if the patron is to enjoy the program depicted upon the screen or stage. Patrons of the new "Bristol" Theatre are assured of the utmost comfort in the modern equipment installed. A modern chair for a modern age assures the maximum in comfort. The "Ideal Chair," approved and used by Warner Brothers now in the Stanton Theatre, Philadelphia, and many others throughout the country, was selected for the "Bristol."

The "Ideal Chair" is unique in its silent six ball bearing self-aligning hinge—distinctive in design and appealing in colorful harmony. It is alluring in comfort with deep spring cushions scientifically constructed, a chair you will be proud to regard as your chair, comparable in comfort to your favorite easy chair at home.

Interior Lighting Is Attractive Feature

The interior lighting of the Bristol Theatre in the main auditorium is an innovation, in that it has been specially designed to make unnecessary any over-head or ceiling fixtures.

The lighting will come entirely from the sides of the auditorium.

Each side of the auditorium contains three specially built and designed lumiline chromium plated fixtures. The fixtures supply both decorative lighting and lighting for illuminating purposes.

Incidentally, Miti Green does an amusing imitation of Fannie Brice in her skit on the Earle stage.

ARCHITECT PLANS 'EYE FLOW' STYLE FOR NEW THEATRE

Faced With Demand for Novel Treatment He Places Emphasis
On Screen Giving All Patrons Equal
View of Show

BALCONY OF "BRISTOL" PROVIDES
SAME VIEW AS FROM MAIN FLOOR

After it had been definitely decided by the "Bristol" Theatre Corporation to erect a new theatre here on the site of the old Riverside Theatre, the next step was to give careful consideration and thought to the type and character building to be erected.

Among theatre architects there is an old saying there is nothing new in the way of motion picture theatre building, but they did not reckon with a young architect who had ideas of his own. It was such an architect that the Bristol Theatre Corporation consulted when they called in David Supowitz, and asked him if he could think of something that would be outstanding; something never done before. Supowitz answered only "Eye-flow." He was instructed to "go to work" on a general plan and submit his ideas.

Theatres generally make no particular effort to concentrate on the most important part of the theatre, the screen. Supowitz's idea was to build a motion picture theatre so aligned as to focus every patron's eye on the screen alone. This is "Eye-flow."

Interior walls of the intimate "Bristol" Theatre are built to converge toward the screen, and the sides are covered with a pastel composition exclusive with the "Bristol." So ingeniously arranged and aligned are the strips of pastel composition that a patron, no matter where he sits, will have his attention focused directly on the screen. The eye follows the flow of paneling to its conclusion, which is the screen.

Another feature of this fireproof composition is its remarkable acoustical quality. It always has been a problem with builders of theatres to couple sound-proofing with paneling, but not until the "Bristol" installed it has this architect's dream come true. There is no echo of hollowness, simply a perfect flowing of sound off the walls and directly into the auditorium. The "Bristol" is one of the few theatres in the country to have this remarkable feature.

Furnishing a novelty in theatre construction, particular emphasis was placed upon the construction of the balcony. For the past few years, Supowitz has made a point to eliminate the old-fashioned high and steep balcony found objectionable by the public. By dint of careful engineering and sighting lines, Supowitz produced a balcony easy of access and low, giving a feeling of safety and comfort comparable with the main floor. The proscenium is wide, providing ample room to show the most up-to-date pictures with a large screen.

The ultimate in theatre projection equipment is represented in the new "Bristol" Theatre.

The projection booth is sufficiently large to permit the installation of two modern projection machines, as well as the additional spotlights and sound machines required for perfect screening of films.

The electrical equipment has been installed so as to permit any variation of lighting effect.

It may be truly said the new "Bristol" embodies everything movie patrons may desire and engineers can devise for the comfort and convenience of those patrons.

When the doors of the "Bristol" open tomorrow evening, patrons will be greeted by a theatre new in everything; truly the finest intimate theatre in the country.

WELL ESTABLISHED FIRM

Firm Also Supplied Structural Steel Used in Other
Theatres

From the Norris Iron and Wire Works, Inc., Bridgeport, Pa., came the structural steel that was used in the Bristol Theatre. This Montgomery county firm, located just west of Norristown, supplied approximately 19 tons of steel girders and other structural pieces of steel for the new building.

Mr. John K. Gehret is president of this company which has supplied steel and structural material for other large buildings in the vicinity of Norristown. Besides the fabrication of structural steel this firm also makes ornamental and builders iron work.

Another theatre that was supplied with the structural steel by the Norris Iron and Wire Works, Inc., was the huge Norris Theatre in Norristown. This structure contained more than 275 tons of steel beams and girders and other structural parts. The firm also supplied the steel for Strawberrybridge's new store in Jenkintown, the Times Medical Building in Ardmore, and the Suburban Theatre in Ardmore.

Theda Bara created the first movie "vampire" role in 1915.

HARLOW DEATH RAISED PULLING POWER OF FILM

"After the Thin Man" Second
On Ten Best Money
Pictures

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 8.—Now that all the critics have had their say about the past year's "bests" in the movies, it's interesting and revealing to check up on what the public had to say on the subject—at the box-office.

Oddly, in view of the legend to the contrary, the paying public and the non-paying critics were not too far from agreement. A comprehensive chart on box-office strengths prepared by National Box Office Digest, a trade weekly, issuing from Hollywood, rates the 1937 releases for monetary value.

Box-office smash of the year (according to the Digest) was "Saratoga," which did 71 per cent above normal business. Not a "critic's picture" this had the pulling power of Clark Gable plus the "Freak draw" of Jean Harlow's posthumous appearance. Next came "After the Thin Man," included on at least one critic's "ten best." The "Walkie Wedding"—Bing Crosby, Martha Raye, Bob Burns—and fourth, "The Awful Truth," 61 per cent above normal and a popular "ten best."

The other "ten box-office bests" included "Thin Ice," "Maytime," "The Plainsman," "Lost Horizon," "One in a Million," and "A Star Is Born." Of these, "Lost Horizon" and "A Star Is Born" made many "critic's choice" lists.

Below these, but far above normal, are found such films as "100 Men and a Girl," "Stella Dallas," "The Good Earth," "Captains Courageous," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Dead End," "Stage Door," "The Life of Emile Zola," and "Camille," each of which has found its way to more than one critical "ten best."

Of course, "Wee Willie Winkie" (Miss Temple), is rated equally with "100 Men and a Girl," and such hodgepodes as "Double Wedding" and Artists and Models have outdrawn—so far—both "Zola" and "Camille" and half a dozen other critically approved films.

Critics and public diverged most startlingly on "Make Way for Tomorrow," which is credited with a flop at 32 per cent under normal business. (It had no stars.)

Films mentioned above are listed as costing "over $500,000." In the cost bracket from $200,000 to $500,000 the smash hit was "Kid Gallahad," 24 per cent above normal. In this group the critically lauded "Call It A Day" is rated 14 per cent under; "They Won't Forget," 21 per cent under; and "Night Must Fall"—picked by one reviewing body as the unqualified best of the year—17 per cent under.

In another bracket—costs from $100,000 to $200,000—the leader is "Alcatraz Island," a surprise hit in its class.

and draws attention of the guard in order to let Howard get to his quarters unobserved. In consequence, Howard takes part in the game while Ayres is barred. During the game Howard tells the team about Ayres' sacrifice, and Lew becomes more popular than ever with the whole Academy—and also Miss Carlisle.

The picture includes some very exciting football scrimmages, contributed by the University of California team, which took part en masse. The youth of the entire cast, the beauty of the Naval Academy setting, and the truly thrilling football games seen in the picture make it exciting film fare. Rarely have football games been made purposely for a film with such realistic effect.

Surrounded by a cast of youngsters, Tully Marshall and Elizabeth Patterson stand out remarkably in their character parts, both turning in the sterling performances which are to be expected of them in any picture. The film was directed by Kurt Neumann.

FURNISHED HARDWARE FOR BRISTOL THEATRE

Wolson's Hardware Store
Selected By Contractor Because of Complete Stocks

When construction was started on the Bristol Theatre, Wolson's Hardware Store was selected as the store to supply the hardware needs.

The complete stocks, courteous friendly service and prompt delivery that has made Wolson's the hardware center for lower Bucks County, was readily seen and appreciated by the management.

You, too, will find that shopping at Wolson's will be both pleasant and profitable for all your hardware and houseware needs.

KEATON, DIRECTOR

Joseph B. Keaton, once known as Buster Keaton, is a director these days. What he wants to do most is to direct a remake of his most popular film, "The Navigator." Only this time instead of Keaton and Marcelline Day being adrift alone on an ocean liner, he'd have Myrna Loy and William Powell. Who wouldn't?

YOUNG STARS SCORE HIT IN NEW FOOTBALL YARN

Paramount's new story of football at Annapolis is made into first-rate entertainment by the enthusiastic activities of a cast filled with fine young actors in "Hold 'Em Navy," which is to be the opening feature at the Bristol Theatre.

The trio which carries the greatest part of the picture's romance is made up of Lew Ayres, Mary Carlisle and John Howard, three of the most popular youngsters in Hollywood today. Ayres upholds the high standard of his recent films, combining the comedy touch of "Lady Be Careful" with the dramatic feeling of "The Last Train From Madrid." As the plebe who becomes an Annapolis football hero, Ayres has one of his best and most likeable roles.

Mary Carlisle, who has recently played opposite Ayres in "Lady Be Careful" and with Bing Crosby in "Double or Nothing," shows that she is, in addition to being one of the prettiest young women on the screen, an excellent actress. She, too, has a deft comedy touch which is shown to best advantage in "Hold 'Em Navy."

One of the fastest developing actors in Hollywood is John Howard, who plays an established football star in the film. Although he has been in pictures a shorter time than either of the other two featured players, his rise has been rapid and steady. He won high praise from critics with his polished performance in "Bulldog Drummond Comes Back," which he recently completed.

A cast including Benny Baker, Elizabeth Patterson, Archie Twitchell and Tully Marshall supports the three principals.

The picture opens with the rivalry of John Howard, upper-classman, and Lew Ayres, plebe, over Mary Carlisle, who is regarded as Howard's girl throughout the Academy. Howard begins to ride Ayres at every opportunity, getting him nicknamed "Beautiful" and generally making his life a burden. Finally Ayres burns up over his treatment, and determines to win Miss Carlisle away from Howard. In the meantime he has been making a name for himself and has become the plebe football hero. The night before the big plebe game Ayres is out too late and Howard reports him which prevents his taking part in the game.

The following year finds Ayres and Howard rivals for the post of quarterback on the Navy team, which is won by Howard. The night before the Army game Howard stays out too late, and Ayres pretends to be drunk

NEW LIVING SOUND ASSURED AT THE "BRISTOL" THEATRE THROUGH "MAGIC VOICE," REVOLUTIONARY SOUND SYSTEM

Similar Sound Equipment is In Operation at Two Super Theatres of Famed Radio City, New York — Result of Important Technical Advances

New living sound through the "Magic Voice of the Screen" is another feature of the "Bristol" Theatre, which will open its doors to the public tomorrow evening.

More and more the big Hollywood motion picture companies are turning to RCA sound recording equipment to insure perfect sound for their productions. To match this fidelity of recording and thereby insure your complete enjoyment, the management of the "Bristol" Theatre selected the latest RCA sound reproducing equipment—so utterly life-like that it has been named the "Magic Voice of the Screen."

Representing a radical improvement over earlier "movie" sound apparatus and incorporating a number of recent technical improvements of far-reaching importance, the new, "Magic Voice" sound system promises to revolutionize all previous conceptions of realism in sound motion picture reproduction.

It assures brilliant natural sound of a quality that has heretofore been possible only in the most elaborate and costly laboratory experiments.

Similar sound equipment is in operation in the two super theatres of famed Radio City, New York.

Sound in motion pictures has undergone a remarkable transformation in the few short years since its awkward, lisping beginning until today sound plays an all-important role in providing that authentic quality which has made it possible for motion pictures to achieve a remarkable realism. Through it the motion picture now conveys more genuine emotion, more stirring drama, and the positive illusion of being "there."

Recently a whole chain of important technical advances have come out of the great RCA laboratories in Camden, N. J., which assure new high standards in the quality of the sound recordings emanating from the major motion picture producing companies. Recognizing that these technical advances have outstripped the performance capabilities of older types of sound apparatus, the management of the "Bristol" Theatre decided to acquire the most modern equipment available, a system which would be equal to the most exacting requirements of the new standards in sound reproduction. After making a thorough study of the various types of equipment on the market it unhesitatingly chose RCA Victor's new "Magic Voice of the Screen."

With the new equipment installed, patrons will be quick to notice the great improvement. There is a perceptible "lift" to the sound. Instruments in the orchestra take on new life and delineation. Spoken words lose their metallic quality and take on an intimate, human timbre, and the whole effect is a revelation of recreated sound.

MAN HAS VIEWED 1,000 MOVIES IN FIVE YEARS

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8 — Dante Calderaro, 25, and a bachelor, likes movies so well he has attended 1,000 performances in five years, which he thinks makes it a hobby.

Calderaro keeps a record of the pictures he has seen, the amount of money spent to see them and the ones he judges best.

He rates Fredric March as his favorite actor and Claudette Colbert leads his choice of actresses.

He thinks "Les Miserables" is the best picture he has seen and he liked "The Sign of the Cross" so well he saw it five times.

Calderaro's votes for the best acting during 1937 go to March in "A Star Is Born" and Barbara Stanwyck in "Stella Dallas."

TO MANAGE THEATRE

"NED" EGNAL

Besides his business activities and the rearing of his five children, Anna, Michael, Florence, Abraham and Nathan, the senior Egnal has been active in charitable work in the city. All of his children reside in Philadelphia.

Egnal, who is a member of the Benevolent Order of Elks, began his theatre career in 1931 when he took over the management of the Broadway Theatre in Bridgeport, Pa. Business associates and local leaders advised him that the theatre could not be run successfully because of a number of conditions, but Egnal went ahead with his plans in spite of these facts.

That he has made a marked success of this venture has now become a well known fact. The Broadway Theatre has been running since it was reopened on Thanksgiving Day, 1931. The senior Egnal now owns the theatre.

The Broadway Theatre now has the support and co-operation of the entire town of Bridgeport because it has been given the finest and best possible in fine entertainment.

That Egnal's sympathies are with the Bridgeport community is demonstrated in his willingness to donate of his services by donating a complete show gratis on every occasion of worthy need. This has been the case in the flood relief and other worthy causes. On such occasions the town is given all of the proceeds, none being reserved for the rent of the building or the employees' salaries.

One of the annual events that Egnal has established in Bridgeport is the running of the Annual Christmas Show for the children of the section. This is run in conjunction with the American Legion Post in Bridgeport. The Legion supplies gifts for the children and the show is donated by the senior Egnal.

During the past two years Egnal has been aided by his son, Nathan, who assumed the duties of management of the Broadway Theatre.

Michael H. Egnal, son of James Egnal, builder of the new Bristol Theatre, is the counsel for the Bristol Theatre Corporation and is an attorney with offices in the North American Building, Philadelphia.

Mr. Egnal has three times been vice-president of the United Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware, Inc. He at present is a member of the Board of Managers.

This organization's membership is composed of practically all of the independent theatre operators in the district.

In 1936 Mr. Egnal performed all of the legal services necessary to effect a merger of motion picture theatre owners, etc., and the Independent Exhibitors Protective Association, bringing into one organization all of the independent theatre exhibitors.

At the present time Mr. Egnal is co-counsel and rendered legal services in numerous matters to the independent exhibitors.

Mr. Egnal is a director of the Northern Liberties Hospital of Philadelphia, past president of the Lincoln Lodge B'nai B'rith, and a member of the Philadelphia Bar Association.

NATIVE TALENT MIGHT ATTEMPT HOAXES AGAIN

One Studio Has a Dozen Europeans Waiting for Screen Chance

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 8 — The time is ripe for a duplication of the hoaxes that brought Margaret Lindsay and Robert Cummings to Hollywood as "foreign stars."

Both Miss Lindsay and Cummings, Americans, sojourned in England and got their "breaks" here through posing as English players. Cummings advised Miss Lindsay on the procedure, then followed his own advice with equal success.

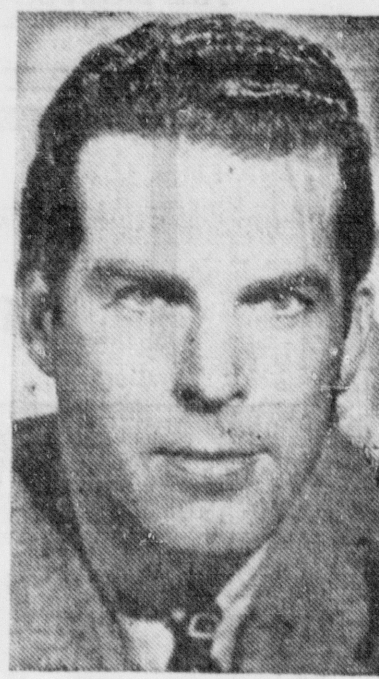

To say that Hollywood again has gone loco over foreign talent would be misleading. The foreigners are but part of a widespread influx of new talent, including many Americans, being drafted by various studios. This new year should be, decidedly, a year of "new faces." The urge to experiment with star material is dominant.

Still, the American-born would-be star, if overlooked as an American, might try the Lindsay-Cummings route to movie attention. Hollywood's curiosity is invariably aroused by a name that smacks of distant lands. Curiosity often leads to a contract, and a contract—often but not always—to a chance to let the public decide.

Metro has a dozen Europeans here waiting for their first screen opportunity in Hollywood. This studio—because Mr. Louis B. Mayer took a trip abroad—leads in the number of new foreigners on its lists. The Italian Elena Quirici, Anthony Novatny of Czechoslovakia, Konstantin Gorlan of Yugoslavia, the Hungarian Steven Bekassy, the Vinnese Hedy Lamarr (who was Hedy Keisler of "Ecstasy") are among the reserves.

From France have come Arlene Borg, Mireille Balin, Jacqueline Laurant, Viennese Della Lind is cast in "Swiss Miss" with Laurel and Hardy. Hungarian Ilona Massey already has scored in "Rosalie," and Viennese Rose Stradner aroused studio enthusiasm in "The Last Gangster." From England there are Peter Bull and Don Stannard. Miliza Korjus, Hungarian singer, has been here many months, still has not appeared in a picture.

Paramount has hopes for Franciska Gaal, already studio-approved in "The Buccaneer," and for Olympia Bradna and Rigaud and Isa Miranda. New Warner importations are chiefly English—Isabel Jeans, Melville Cooper, Bruce Lister and James Stephenson. Universal has its French, Danielle Darrieux (proved in foreign films) and 20th Century-Fox its equally approved Annabella, with Scandinavian Osa

FRED MacMURRAY

Massen newly added to the roster. This studio, with Sonja Henie and a singing Simone freshly triumphant, probably has more reason than others to look abroad for "discoveries," although Hollywood's records prove that the public always has picked its favorites, not by nationalities, but by individual personality appeal.

With the fans, it hasn't seemed to matter where a star came from. For every Garbo, Lulise Rainer, or Charles Boyer that the moviegoers have welcomed, there is a Lillian Harvey, a Henri Garat, or a Lil Dugover to whom the American box-office has said, in its forceful, direct and uncompromising language, "No, thank you."

Patrons of New "Bristol" Will Find It Most Modern

The floor of the theatre presents an exceptionally easy grade.

Two rest rooms are provided, these being to the rear of the wide aisle on the Market street side. The walls of the rest rooms are in gray; and in the one for the women there has been placed furniture of attractive design in dark green leather and chrome. The ample-sized rest rooms are most modern in fixtures and design.

Fourteen exits are provided, 10 on the Market street side, and four on Water street, along the Delaware River.

Eligibles

Bachelor Ronald Colman is in the $200,000 per film class. Spinster Simone Simon is now drawing $3,000 every pay day. Nelson Eddy is a $5,000-a-week boy. Robert Taylor will have $1,000,000 in the bank by the time his present contract expires. Twenty-eight-year-old producer Joseph Mankiewicz isn't a bad catch at $5,000 a week, 52 weeks every year. Boy-wonder Writer-Producer Norman Krasna is practically as big a money-maker. Garbo's dowry is near the $500,000-a-year category. And Katharine Hepburn doesn't lag far behind.

"MAGIC VOICE" SOUND FOR "BRISTOL" THEATRE

The remarkable new motion picture sound reproducing system, which was recently perfected in the famous R. C. A. Victor laboratories and named the "Magic Voice of the Screen," has been installed in The "Bristol" Theatre, aptly referred to as "Bucks County's finest."

Representing a radical improvement over earlier movie sound apparatus and incorporating a number of recent technical improvements of far-reaching importance, the new "Magic Voice" sound system promises to revolutionize all previous conceptions of realism in sound motion picture reproduction.
